

END FIRE & REHIRE

Dear Prime Minister,

We the undersigned are calling on the Government to announce in the Queen's speech on the 11th May 2021 that the abhorrent practice of Fire and Rehire will be outlawed.

The workers of the UK should be treated with decency, and that's why we are calling for a simple amendment to existing employment legislation to outlaw 'fire and rehire'.

Fire and Rehire is spreading through workplaces with now an estimated one in ten UK workers undergoing a threat to their jobs.

But it is rarely, if ever, implemented as a response to business need. Indeed, one employer attempting to force through cuts to terms and conditions has just recorded record profits.

One minister has described fire and rehire as 'bully boy tactics'. Unless something is done urgently it will only accelerate further putting unnecessary stress and strain on families across the UK.

UK workers should have the same protections as workers in other countries. Fire and rehire is outlawed in much of Europe and it should be no different here.

Outlawing Fire and Rehire would not only remove the terrible fear of job losses and hefty wage cuts stalking millions of families, it will also support the responsible businesses trying to do the decent thing by their employees.

The government has talked often about building back better from the pandemic. We urge it to start this process now with this simple but powerful move that really will improve working life in this country.

The workers of this country have powered us through this crisis. They deserve so much more than the threat of unemployment or punishing cuts to their pay.

You have the power to end this now. We call upon you to support the working people of this country; end fire and rehire.
