I BELIEVE

BAE SYSTEMS

SHOULD BE

A LIVING WAGE EMPLOYER
Dear Charles Woodburn,

I believe BAE systems should be a real living wage company, because it’s the right thing to do.

By signing up to become an accredited real Living Wage employer, BAE Systems commits to extending the real living wage to not only anyone directly employed at the company but also indirectly employed sub-contracted workers such as cleaners, catering and security staff.

It’s such a simple thing for one of the world’s largest defence giants to do.

But it will make a huge difference to the lives of some of the lowest paid workers across BAE Systems sites and to local communities too.

It’s time for BAE Systems to live up to its motto and serve and protect those that serve us in our canteens, protect us on the job and clean for us.

Signed: ______________________________________________________
Site: __________________________________________________________
Date: __________________________________________________________

Living Wage Foundation  £9.50 (UK rate) £10.85 (London rate) livingwage.org.uk