SURVEY TOOL

Guidance

Thanks for getting involved in the GMHS campaign. Everything you need to get started is in this toolkit, and you'll be joining workers across the country in the campaign for safer journeys to and from work.

What is this toolkit?

This toolkit will support you to lay the foundations for a workplace and branch campaign which seeks to lobby specific employers to sign-up to our get me home safely campaign. Where there is no Unite Hospitality branch in your area, this toolkit can be used to drive and support petitions or collective grievances. In all instances it can be used as a platform for shared materials such as draft leaflets and newsletters to assist in recruitment and organising drives.

How to use it?

Your first step should be to get as many of your colleagues on a collective letter/grievance calling on your employer to provide free transport home using the survey results as evidence of the need (we can help you with this if needed). Both the survey and the letter can be used as a recruitment tool to gather contact information for your colleagues with the aim of creating a platform for communication such as Whatsapp.

What to do with your results

On a local, regional and national basis the survey results can be used to present at branch meetings with members, at public meetings and to lobby politicians to incorporate free and safe transport home into local licensing agreements.

Please also feedback your overall local survey results to Irina.DoCarmo@uniteunion.org so these can also be collated to assist with our political demands for safe, publicly owned transportation for hospitality workers and others in the night time economy.
